

FLORIDA'S TURNPIKE ENTERPRISE

Integrated Corridor Management

August 31, 2015

FLORIDA'S APPROACH

- All new capacity will be considered for tolling
- Regional Approach to corridor management
- Combination of construction and technology solutions

TOLLING CONSIDERATIONS

- Managed lanes solutions – express or reversible
- Commercial access limited to 2-axle commercial vehicles
- Transit bus access
 - travel toll-free in Express Lanes on Interstate
 - pay general toll lane fare in FTE-owned Express Lanes

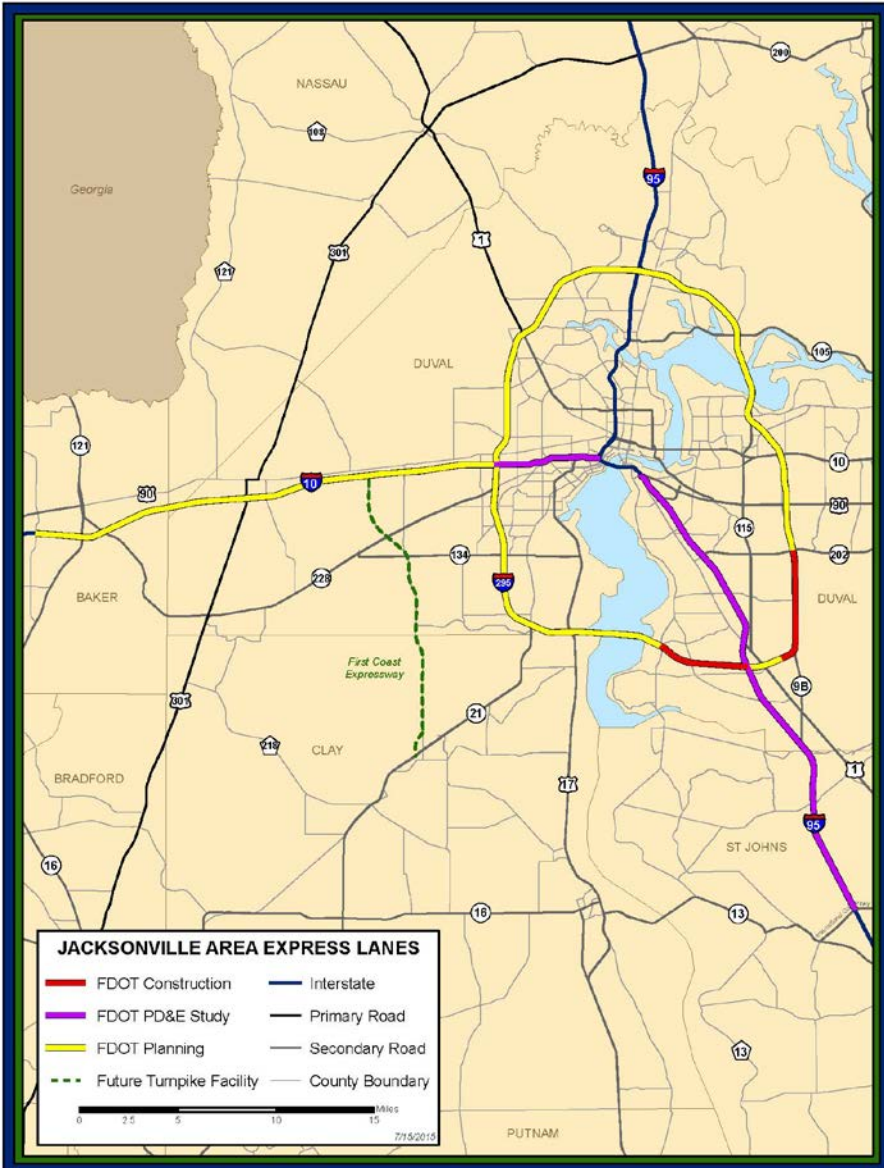

REGIONAL SOLUTIONS

- Creation of Regional Concept of Transportation Operations Task Teams
 - South Florida RCTO
 - West Florida RCTO
 - Northeast Florida RCTO

- RCTO purpose is to develop the network concept focusing on a consistent set of operational rules within a single network.

- RCTO includes all regional partners to current and future opportunities to expand the network.

EXPRESS LANE RCTO's BY REGION

Northeast
Florida
RCTO
(Jacksonville)

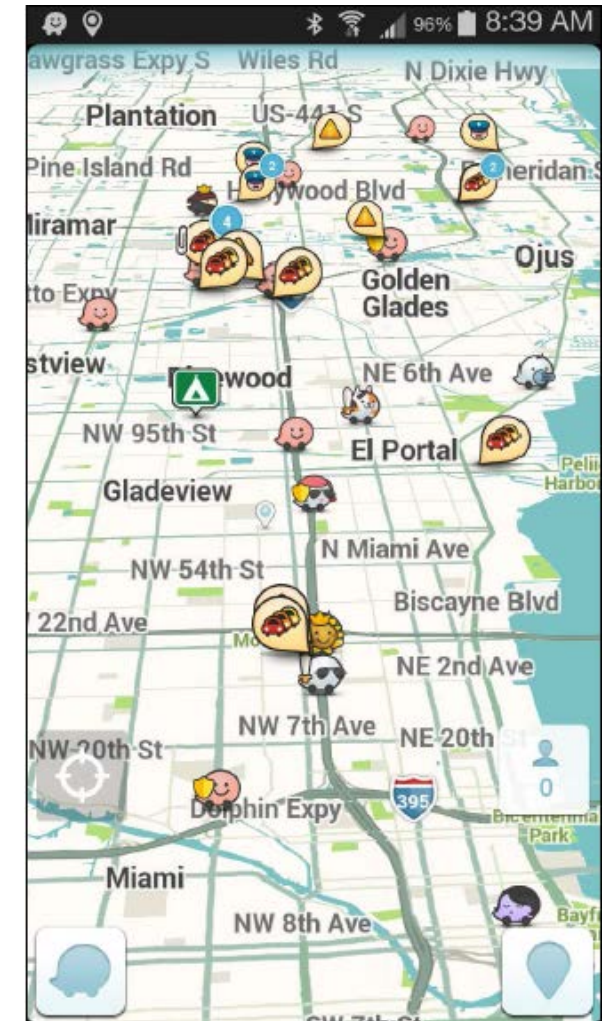

REVENUES

- Revenues are allocated first to maintenance and operation of the express lanes
- Net revenues are spent in the county in which they are generated
- Net revenues can be used for other similar corridor management projects
- Net revenues can be used for transit-related purchases that further the use of the express lane network

OTHER TECHNOLOGIES

➤ WAZE

- Free turn-by-turn GPS navigation app providing real-time traffic updates
- Wazers (users) can actively update all other users on incidents, congestion, construction, police activity, red-light running cameras, etc.
- Since it's user-generated, the more people who use it, the better the data

WAZE

➤ Need

- Ability to identify and provide traffic information on non-instrumented roadways

➤ Opportunity

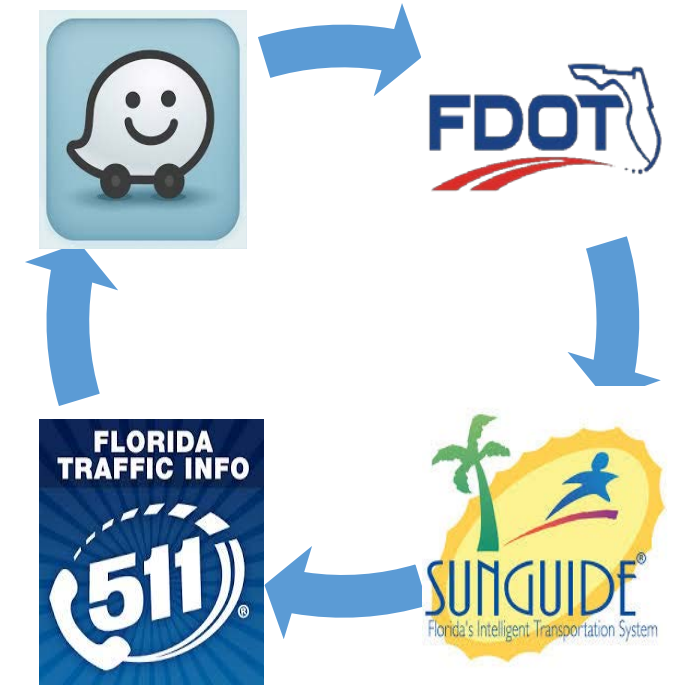

- Traffic data source where ITS detector infrastructure is lacking
- Data sharing agreement between FDOT and WAZE

➤ Phase 1 (Fall 2014)

- WAZE alerts provided to statewide SunGuide Centers

➤ Phase 2 – (Summer 2015)

- More Operator/User-friendly
- Direct publishing of Waze Alerts to FL511

INTEGRATED CORRIDOR MANAGEMENT

Thank You!